

BCN Realigns Executive Leadership Team to Expand Upon Growth

MORRISTOWN, NJ — July 14, 2016

BCN, a privately held and management owned, nationwide CLEC, has announced the realignment of the Company's executive leadership team. Dick Boudria, BCN Chairman and CEO, announced the new leadership team to further position BCN to expand upon its current growth trajectory through continued executive leadership and focus on its service offering, distribution channels and underlying service delivery infrastructure.

The new executive leadership team will be comprised of Richard Boudria Jr., President, Julian Jacquez, Chief Operating Officer, and Richard Schmeling, Chief Financial Officer. These three senior executives will report directly to the Chairman and CEO.

"I am confident that this is the right leadership team to continue our corporate growth strategy and brand presence within the agent channel. The new executive team will capitalize on their knowledge, expertise and experience in delivering customer configured solutions to larger multi-location businesses," said Dick Boudria. "The tremendous growth we have experienced as a Company is due in large part to their strong commitment to ensuring the success of BCN, their understanding of our overall business and the deep expertise they bring to their individual areas of responsibility."

As President Boudria Jr. will play a pivotal role in all facets of the business and will focus on extending the Company's track record of growth and service excellence. He joined BCN in 2006 and brings a wealth of experience along with strategic partner and customer relationships from his previous management roles as Director of Agent Sales, Vice President of Sales, and most recently Executive Vice President.

Julian Jacquez joined BCN in 2004 following an acquisition-based transaction with BCN. Jacquez, most recently an Executive Vice President, will continue to be responsible for network carrier relationships, product and process development, margin assurance, carrier cost auditing and corporate contract management. His role is being expanded to include product and service delivery, service maintenance and repair, end-user billing, as well as overseeing BCN's corporate IT infrastructure.

Richard Schmeling, Chief Financial Officer, will continue to manage and lead the company's finance and accounting organizations, as well as the collections, regulatory compliance and tax reporting groups. Schmeling will also continue to maintain the primary legal, banking and audit relationships of the company.
